Lion Names Jim DiSanto New Chief Financial Officer

DAYTON, Ohio – Jim DiSanto has been named the new chief financial officer at Lion Apparel, the Dayton-based company that serves the uniform and personal protective equipment (PPE) and logistics requirements of police and fire departments, civilian government agencies, emergency services and military organizations around the world.

DiSanto is a senior finance executive with 17 years of experience leading finance organizations in accounting management and control, acquisitions and integration, budgeting, planning, financial analysis and cost accounting.

DiSanto previously held finance positions with GE Power Systems, The Stanley Works, Crane Corporation and United Components.

“I believe Jim has the energy, talent and experience as a strong leader and financial steward to help lead Lion to its next level of performance,” said Steve Schwartz, Lion’s fourth-generation family owner and chief executive officer.

DiSanto and his wife, Jenn, live in Washington Twp. with their children Max, 3, and Eva, 5.
